Students To Hear Morgan-
stern At General Meeting
Billed For 10 A. M. In Memorial Hall

AUSTRIAN SITUATION WILL BE DISCUSSED

Lecture Is Being Given In Connection With Pan-
Politikon Study

Dr. Oskar Morgenstern, University of Vienna professor, will speak at the first general convocation of the semester to be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday, March 15, in Memorial hall. His subject will be "Austria in Middle Europe."

Dealing chiefly with the country's economic and political relationship to the rest of Europe, Dr. Morgenstern will probably discuss the general election reported to have been called for Sunday in Austria, Dean T. T. Jones said.

According to recent reports, the people of that country will be asked to express their opinion at the polls Sunday as to whether they wish to join the German nation. It was stated that Hitler has been planning a similar vote to be held later in the month.

Dr. Morgenstern will review the conditions leading up to the present status of Austria and analyze the vital position held by the country in relation to other European nations, particularly Germany. He will show how Germany has been a constant threat to Austria in the past.

In this country as a visiting professor from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Dr. Morgenstern is at the University to deliver a series of lectures on Austria, in conjunction with Pan-Politikon's program for the study of that country. Lectures are held in Room 303, White hall, on Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

In addition to his professorship at the University of Vienna, Dr. Morgenstern is the director of the Austrian Institute for business cycle, managing editor of an Austrian economic review, and a member of four financial, economic, and statistical committees of the League of Nations.

He is the author of two books on economic theory, and numerous articles on the theory of value, costs, production, methodology, and business cycles. An economic history of Austria, 1918-38, is to be published next year by him.

Dr. Morgenstern came to the University from Nashville, where he delivered a series of lectures at Vanderbilt university. After this month, he plans to visit other leading universities, including the University of Wisconsin, University of Chicago, and Harvard and Yale universities.

Austrian Exhibit Placed On Display In Library Lobby

In connection with Pan Politikon's study of Austria, an exhibit relating to that country has been placed in the lobby of the University library. It will be on display until about April 1, library officials said yesterday.

Consisting mainly of posters depicting vacation in Austria, the display includes scenes of architecture, aquatic sports, winter sports, and rural life.

Various types of pottery and art works, as well as tapestries, cloths and leather work are included in exhibit.

Travel folders and other pictorial materials pertaining to Austria may be read in the browsing room of the library, where they are on reserve.

NOLLEAU ADDRESSES PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

Prof. L. E. Nollau, instructor in the College of Engineering, spoke before the University photography club in the YMCA reading room Thursday night, on "Obtaining Depth of Focus."

ALTRUSANS HEAR BLANDING

Miss Sarah G. Blanding, dean of women, addressed the Lexington Altrus club at noon Wednesday at the Lafayette hotel on "Can We Win Peace Through Legislation." Miss Margaret King, University librarian, acted as program chairman and introduced Miss Blanding.

Editorial Page Today

"Is Friendship Apple Polishing?" states in short order a glaring mistake made by most students. "The Journalist Ghost" is a real and important problem to both the professional and the amateur journalist. For your interest in campus personalities we have our own "Periscope." For a wee bit of discourse we have "Side-show," and for a little out and out humor we present you with "On the Lam."

'Idiot's Delight', War Blasting Drama, Opens Monday Night

Curtain Rises At 8:30 O'clock
On Robert E. Sherwood's
Pulitzer Prize Winner

The fourth major production of the current Guignol season, Robert E. Sherwood's Pulitzer prize winning drama "Idiot's Delight," opens at the Guignol theater for a week's run at 8:30 o'clock Monday night. Mr. Sherwood's brilliant successful new play is a powerful indictment of war, international munition-mongers, and fanatical nationalists. The scene of "Idiot's Delight" is laid in the Hotel Monte Gabriele, a mountain resort in the Italian Alps on the border of Switzerland and France and near an Italian army flying field. During the action of the play the "next" war is started which is destined to destroy civilization.

The leading characters of the prize winning drama are an American vaudeville (Wildan Thomas) touring European theaters with a bevy of entertainers; a mysterious white Russian "noblewoman" (Mrs. Kathryn Conley Wheeler) who looks strangely familiar to the American; and a sinister munitions magnate (Walter Kirkpatrick) with interests in several warring countries and loyalties in none.

Leading student roles are being portrayed by Ross Chepeleff, as Dumpey, a servant of the hotel; J. B. Faulconer, as Dr. Waldersee, the German scientist; James Wine, cast as Mr. Cherry, a newlywed; and Clarence Geiger, playing Quillery, the outspoken pacifist.

The play, a Theater Guild production, was first produced at the National theater in Washington, D. C. with Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in the leading roles of Harry Van and Irene.

The set for "Idiot's Delight" is ultra-modern, designed by Frank Fowler and constructed by William Quirey.

Scheduled to run a week with a matinee at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, the play is directed by Frank Fowler, assisted by Elizabeth Brown. The cast in the order of its appearance on the stage follows:

Dumpey, Ross Chepeleff; Orchestra leader, C. R. Lisany; Donald Navadel; Gayle Fields; Pittaluga; Don Irvine; Auguste, Ben Buffett; Captain Locicero, Louis Berman;

Four Are Chosen For Law Arguments

Court Of Appeals Will Hear
Rosenbaum, Elliott,
Milner, Bladok

Four University law students have been selected to engage in the annual competitive arguments before the Kentucky Court of Appeals which will be held next month at Frankfort.

The students, who were selected in an elimination round of arguments Friday, March 4 at Lafferty hall, are C. E. Rosenbaum, Fairplay; Sam Miller, Paris; Nathan Elliott, Jr., Lexington; and Steven Bladok, Clifton, N. J.

Judges for the preliminary arguments were attorneys Paul Mansfield, Anthony Thompson and Joseph Webb, all of Lexington. The same question discussed March 4 will be used for the arguments which will be held next month.

The question deals with the validity of a divorce secured by a husband in the state of Minnesota, the parties having been married in California and having resided there until the husband abandoned his wife, traveled to Minnesota and there remarried.

Phi Upsilon Omicron To Honor Initiates

Miss Iris Davenport, Athens, Ga., will be guest speaker at a banquet to be given by Iota chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary home economics fraternity, at the Lafayette hotel following initiation services for three girls at 5 p. m. today.

Those who will be initiated are: Louise McGoldrick, Versailles; Virginia Pettus, Stanford and Dorothy Gentry, Henderson.

Jessie Whitfield will give the welcome address and Grace Silverman will introduce the guest speaker. A vocal solo will be given by Frances Young.

Members of Omicron Nu and Alpha Nu will be guests at the banquet.

MRS. HOWARD SPEAKS

Mrs. A. S. Howard, graduate assistant in the mathematics department, spoke at a meeting of Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics fraternity, held yesterday in McVey hall. Mrs. Howard spoke on "Summation of Divergent Series."

Cats Scrimmage Saturday; Students May View Battle

After more than two weeks of spring conditioning behind them, two picked teams will square off Saturday afternoon on the Stoll field practice lot in the initial scrimmage game of the new year drills.

Students are welcomed to attend the daily practice meetings, but are asked by Coach Kirwan to confine their wanderings to the bleachers on the north side of the field, which have been constructed especially for student spectators.

Faced with the necessity of discovering replacements for the six regulars lost from last year's team by graduation, Coach Al Kirwan and his confederates, Bernie Shively, Joe Rupert, Frank Moseley and Gene Myers, have been sending the squad of 67 through intensive daily sessions of contact and dummy scrimmage. Thus far, blocking, a comparative stranger to Kentucky teams for the past few seasons, has been stressed in particular. The most notable change seen up to the present time is the improved spirit being put into the practice gatherings. Each of the candidates moves through his paces with a new attitude denoting that purge which cleaned the football set-up has also extended onto the field.

The first of Coach Kirwan's reconstruction problems will be the development of a back-field man with the game climaxing traits of Bob Davis. Davis' flying cleats were the difference between gloomy and cheerful Saturdays in two of Kentucky's four wins during the hectic season just passed.

PEASANT ART IS DE HAJEK TOPIC

Importance Of Folk Plays Is Stressed By Theater Manager
At Convocation For Women

Stressing the new importance of folk plays in the theater, Miss Charlotte de Hajek, manager of the Royal Hungarian national theater of Budapest, spoke on "Hungarian Peasant Arts" as the second discussion in a series of vocational lectures Wednesday afternoon in Memorial hall.

Best known for his work on Vitamin C, which he and his collaborators isolated early in 1932, the speaker is also famous for his researches on enzymes, cellular respiration, and synthetic glycerides.

Doctor King, professor of chemistry in the University of Pittsburgh, received his M. S. and Ph. D. at the university where he now teaches. He serves as graduate assistant with Doctor Sherman at Columbia and Professor Hopkins in the biochemical laboratory of Cambridge University.

The lecture followed a dinner of the society in the University Commons. More than thirty members and guests attended. Miss Ruth Boyden of the home economics department acted as hostess.

Plans For Student Union Constitution Near Completion

A complete constitution for the new Student Union building is expected to be in the hands of President Frank L. McVey by Tuesday, Leonard Carr, chairman of the constitutional committee announced yesterday.

The committee will meet at 3 p. m. today in the office of Dean T. T. Jones to make last-minute corrections and to approve the constitution before sending it to Dr. McVey and the Board of Trustees for final ratification.

According to present plans, the document will embody a system for the election of student members to the Board of Governors for the building, similar to that used in Cincinnati for the appointing of city commissioners.

The board, which have complete control of all activities in the building other than those involving financial affairs, is to be composed of nine students, three girls and six boys. Election to the board will be made on a point system, credit being gained by working on sub-committees.

If the present plans are approved, a general manager will have control of and be responsible for the maintenance of the structure. The manager will work under the guidance of the Board of Governors and the Board of Trustees.

ENGINEERS TO HEAR TRIMBLE

Dr. E. G. Trimble, professor of political science, will speak on "Education for Engineers in Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity Friday, March 18, in Memorial hall.

MRS. SMITH SPEAKS

Mrs. George E. Smith, instructor in the department of English, spoke at a meeting of the Spanish club, Tuesday.

Chemical Society Hears Doctor King

Present Status Of Vitamin Field Is Subject Of Discussion

Dr. C. G. King, authority on vitamins and their relation to public health, addressed the Lexington section of the American Chemical Society on the present status of the vitamin field last night in Kastle hall.

Best known for his work on Vitamin C, which he and his collaborators isolated early in 1932, the speaker is also famous for his researches on enzymes, cellular respiration, and synthetic glycerides.

Doctor King, professor of chemistry in the University of Pittsburgh, received his M. S. and Ph. D. at the university where he now teaches. He serves as graduate assistant with Doctor Sherman at Columbia and Professor Hopkins in the biochemical laboratory of Cambridge University.

RUPP SUGGESTS PLAN TO CHOOSE DIXIE NET CHAMP

Let Winners Of Southeastern,
Southern Loops Play
3-Game Series,
Coach Says

EACH TEAM TO PLAY TEN LEAGUE GAMES

Quintet With Top Percentage
Would Be Conference
Champions

A plan to bring the winning teams of the Southeastern and Southern conferences together in a post season series to determine the Southern championship was proposed yesterday by Coach Adolph Rupp, Wildcat basketball chief, as the season to Dixies net ailment. Coach Rupp always a strong advocate of the idea that championships should be based on the team having the best percentage of games won and lost, stated that each team should be compelled by a conference ruling to play at least 10 games per year against representative opposition.

At the conclusion of the regular season, the team from each loop with the best percentage standing would meet in a three-game series for the championship. The plan followed a suggestion by Roy Mundorff, coach of the Georgia Tech Yellowjackets, titlist of the Southeastern conference, that the two leading teams play an annual series for the mythical crown. Mundorff also expressed belief that the yearly tournament should be abolished but added that nothing could be done about it this year.

Both plans came following the recent conference tournament held for the first time in the vast Louisville State coliseum in Baton Rouge. The affair, expected to fill the auditorium to its 8,000 capacity nightly, proved to be the conference's worst financial flop in years. Unless something is done to revive the game, the consensus of opinion is that basketball is doomed in the South.

FORTUNE TALKS ON DEMOCRACY

Present U.S. Government Will Last As Long As People Preserve The Principles Of Freedom, Pastor Says

Despite undemocratic conditions prevailing in Russia, Italy, and Germany, the United States can feel assured that democracy will continue to flourish here, as long as people keep faith in themselves and preserve those principles which make for freedom, Dr. A. W. Fortune, pastor of the Central Christian church, asserted last night at the third YM-YWCA sponsored forum in Patterson hall.

Speaking on "Has Democracy Failed?" Dr. Fortune claimed that we must appreciate the advantages given us by our constitution. Seventeen constitutional governments have been abandoned, he said, because the masses were indifferent to the course of politics in their country, and failed to protect human rights.

Dr. Fortune explained that education was an essential factor for the preservation of the doctrines of liberty. He emphasized that only with education can a person fully realize the importance of, and his responsibility for government. The usual result of indifference, he said, was militarism, antagonism, breach of freedom, and finally, fascism.

He expressed the belief that the United States is "Heading in the right direction," and that there is little fear for the overthrow of freedom here.

Kentuckian Needs Fort Knox Photos

Saturday, March 12, is the last day that pictures for the snapshot section of the 1938 yearbook can be submitted, Editor Roger Brown said yesterday.

Camp Knox pictures are especially wanted, although any subject of campus life is suitable. Prints should be at least 2 by 2 inches in size and should have the photographer's name and the subject on the back.

"The City of the Future" will be the subject of Mr. Bloxton's address. He will illustrate his talk with numerous models and drawings relating to the subject.

All students in the College of Engineering are required to attend the convocation which is one in a series of meetings scheduled by the college.

Faculty Club Eyes Old Patterson Home

The Faculty club will take over the old Patterson home for new quarters as soon as it is vacated by the women students, it was decided at a meeting held Tuesday in Room 111 of McVey hall.

The executive committee has surveyed the building and proposed to make alterations which include a large dance floor, billiard room and a library-reading room on the first floor; a card room, ladies lounge, game room, and committee room on the second.

Women's Glee Club To Give Musical Program On Sunday

Mrs. Genevieve Bosworth,
American Soprano, To Be Assisting
Artist

Mrs. Genevieve Bosworth, American soprano, will appear as assisting artist to the University women's glee club when the local group is presented as the fourteenth attraction in the current series of afternoon musicales at 4 o'clock Sunday in Memorial hall.

Directed by Miss Mildred Lewis, the chorus includes 40 voices and is composed of music students and others interested in music as an avocation medium. The portion of the program devoted to group voices will consist of Kentucky ballads and European folk songs.

"I Wonder As I Wander," an Appalachian mountain song arranged by John Jacob Niles, and a Kentucky mountain song arranged by John Lewis, will furnish novelty interest in the program.

Mrs. Bosworth, who will sing 12 numbers, has a voice of lyric quality, and has been widely acclaimed for her unusual range and repertoire. With William Merton, flutist and a University student, she will sing "At Eve I Heard a Flute" in conjunction with the Glee club.

Other offerings by Mrs. Bosworth, selected from the works of a wide range of masters, will include such selections as "Nevicata" by Respighi, "A des ciseaux" by Hue, "Carnaval" by Faurdin, "Japanes Regeled" by Joseph Marx, and "Pary Tales" by Erich Wolf.

Adelle Gensmer will accompany Mrs. Bosworth and the ensemble. The program follows:

Comedy Inhabits Strand For Kernel's Film Bill

Kernel College Nighters will view another comedy one-two punch to-night when the Strand theater screens "You're Only Young Once" with Mickey Rooney and "Hawaiian Buccaneer," starring the ex-ork pilot, Smith Ballou.

Provided the lay-out gents in the composing room remember to insert the College Night visa, you will find it elsewhere in today's Kernel. Its recent absences were caused by negligence.

Tonight's celluloid menu contains strictly comedy. Mickey Rooney, of the uncontrollable blond ploy, is seen in a sociological experiment committing boyish pranks and escaping punishment to the tune of "Blame It On My Youth."

"Hawaiian Buccaneer" is a cartilage of more Hollywood whimsy about the South Sea. The entertainment is brightened by Smith Ballou whose crooning has lost none of its appeal despite the fact that he directed one of Broadway's popular orchestras nearly ten years ago. Before joining the Klieg league, Ballou master - of - ceremonies prominent Saturday night radio extravaganza.

Other film chaff includes Leslie Hayton and his band, who assisted Bing Crosby 'way back when Bing was a radio rookie; the collegians' specialty a cartoon branded "Streamlined Greta Green"; and thriller No. 3 of "The Mask" hering Jack Holt.

By eradicating the College night coupon, one admits two, you may observe the bargain bill at matinee tariff rates, 15 cents per head.

Would - Be Editors Edit Today's Kernel

The trial staff editing this edition of the Kernel is composed of the following: Ed Muehler, editor - in - chief; Malcolm Patterson and Don Irvine, associate editors; Andrew Eckdahl, managing editor; Alice Bailey and Louis Haynes, assistant managing editors; Jean McElroy, news editor; L. T. Iglehart and Jack Treadway, assistant news editors; Joe Creason, sports editor; J. B. Faulconer and Bob Rankin, assistant sports editors; Alice Bailey and Marjorie Rieser, society editors, with Sarah Ransdell, Lillian Berry Clark, and Jane Day as assistant society editors.

Vocational Expert To Address Co-eds

University Women Will Hear
Noted Personnel
Director

Miss Florence Jackson, formerly connected with the Personnel bureau of Wellesley College and for fourteen years Director of the Appointment bureau of the Women's Educational and Industrial union of Boston, will speak to all freshman and sophomore women at 3 p. m. Tuesday in Memorial hall on "Vocational Opportunities for Women."

Personal conferences of twenty minutes each will be granted to upper-class women Tuesday morning at 9 a. m. A luncheon meeting will be held in the Commons at 12:30 p. m. and at 4:30 p. m. there will be a tea in the Boyd hall reading room, given by the Vocational Guidance committee.

Miss Jackson will hold more twenty minute conferences after which the Vocational Guidance committee will entertain with a luncheon at Boyd hall.

The election will be conducted from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Thursday, March 17 in the basement of the Administration building by the Men's Student Council in a manner similar to that of previous campus contests.

In addition to the queen and her attendants, a court of honor consisting of one girl from each sorority and four independents, will be chosen. The queen will be crowned with appropriate ceremonies at the Junior Prom, to be given Monday, March 21.

Continuing its record of wins, the University women's rifle team this week won three out of four matches played with leading American colleges.

With a score of 497, the local team defeated the University of Wichita, Connecticut State and Pennsylvania State, who turned in totals of 490, 484 and 480 respectively.

The University of Mississippi barely overcame Kentucky with a score of 499. In the opening week of competition, the University team won three out of seven matches, defeating the University of Kansas, University of Ohio and the University of Michigan.

Kampus Kernels

No open house will be held today at the Woman's building, Mrs. L. M. Lebus, hostess, said yesterday.

The Catholic club will hold its regular monthly breakfast meeting at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, in the Lafayette hotel. Aubrey Morse, secretary of the local YMCA, will speak.

Alpha Phi Omega, University boy scout fraternity, will meet at 7:15 o'clock tonight in the YMCA rooms. T. W. Lacy, national field secretary, will speak.

The Dutch Lunch club will meet at noon today at the Maxwell Street Presbyterian church. Dr. van de Wall will lead a "Sing-Sing."

Is Friendship Apple- Polishing?

FEARING the stigma of "apple polishing," many students condemn any contact with professors outside the classroom. Nothing is more absurd, for such students, while professing to want a college education, are throwing away a main part of what it has to offer them.

The term "apple polishing," in its original connotation, was applied to the practices of those students who believed that a failing grade could be changed for the better by currying favor with the professor. Unfortunately, the plan often worked and those students became known as "apple polishers." It is regrettable, however, that this has given rise to the popular belief that professors should be shunned conscientiously outside routine classes.

Although educators disagree upon the relative merits of one form of learning as opposed to another, they are of one mind on one thing—that social and mental contacts made during the four years in college, form perhaps the most influential single factor in student life.

While students should not monopolize professors' time when they have nothing of import to discuss with their instructors, students should realize that there are professors that it is a privilege to know, who are inspired themselves and have the faculty of inspiring others. These are the ones who have started many a bewildered college student toward broader fields of interest and successful endeavor.

If cultivating the friendship and interest of these men is "apple polishing," let us have more of it.

The Journalist's Ghost

which the average news reader scans his paper, and illustrating the fact that the average reader forgets what he has seen as soon as he puts his paper away, seems to give rise to the grim spectre of futility which haunts all journalists from time to time.

Just what it is that gives the journalist the impetus to go on writing in face of this disappointment and the feeling of futility might be classed as hope; the hope that the next time his creative effort will have a worth while, lasting effect.

An editorial by Henry Watterson, published on March 2, 1909, embodies the typical attitude of the journalist toward his work.

"To the newspaper drudge the futility of all newspaper writing must often edge its way into his tired fancy. The best of it seems so quickly swallowed by the ocean of currency, like waves upon the beach, each day succeeding the other to efface its existence. Words, words; even thoughts, thoughts; what does it matter?

Yet to those of us who live, more and have our being in the grind of daily journalism and in none other, it matters a great deal; so that, after a bit of rest—a night of sleep—under the spur of the news of the morning—maybe under the inspiration of some principle, or dogma, or measure—we take up the pen again, and rush along the page, and blot out, and interline and read the proof and revise it amid the glow of effusion and the glare, if not the glory, of print, inwardly exclaiming, "Now that is something like!" to see the poor ephemeral thing, as a sky rocket, come down like a stick, its coruscations lost forever in the darkness of illimitable space."

ON THE LAM

By GEORGE LAMASON

SHADES of the Veterans of Foreign Wars! An "International Ill-will Institute" has been founded at Emory university with the purpose of satirizing war. "Join Now! You won't live to regret it," students are urged. The Institute advertises, "War for the whole family—bring the wife and kiddies." "A war in every window." "What helps war helps us." "Uneeda war." "Splens vented; wars supplied."

Over 250 Emory students already have pledged their support to the I. I. I. The majority of the application blanks showed a desire to be buried at Times Square, to have their identification tags written in Sanskrit, and to crucify children in the next war.

One of the projects of the Institute is the sending of certificates of merit to all individuals or organizations whose acts help to promote war. Adolf Hitler was among the first to be honored with a certificate. A cable was addressed to Hitler urging him to quit "stalling and fight Austria," but cablegram companies refused to send the message on the grounds that it might cause international complications. The I. I. I. said that it just thrived on international complications, but rewrote the message anyhow. "We are behind you and the eight-ball," it read. "We recommend Austria for your growing pains."

From Peeriscope—

"Wanted: by KA's Marshall Beard and Bob Cloud: a girl, blond, 5' 3" tall, with a car, etc. All applicants please phone 3945. (Adv.)"

The more "etc." she has, the better.

More de-lousy definitions:

Atom—first man.

Phase—front of head.

Collar—red, green, etc.

Expansive—costing too much.

Hymns—that fellow's.

Hearse—that girl's.

Pony—beast of burden used by many college students while in unknown regions.

Pest—that which has gone before.

Pharmacist—gentleman farmer.

Pinnacle—a card game.

Test tube—tooth paste sample.

Ranch—tool for tightening bolts.

Rodeo—a device for listening to broadcasts.

Blotter—something you look for while your ink dries.

Committee—a group that keeps minutes and wastes hours.

Old maid—a yes-girl who never got a chance to talk.

Coed—a vision in the evening and a sight in the morning.

Spinal column—a thing where your heads sits on one end and you sit on the other.

Alibi—the legal way of proving that a man was not at a place where he really was.

Stomach—bowl-shaped cavity containing the organs of indigestion.

Athletics—the excuse for colleges and universities.

Research—getting things out of many old books that are never read and putting them into a new book which nobody is going to read.

Economist—a learned man who talks in millions and borrows bus fare to get home.

Egotist—a person of low taste more interested in himself than in you.

SIDESHOW

By DON IRVINE

SPRING is sneaking up on us with very little sign of her intentions; but earlier in the week there was a siege of sunlight that betrayed what was going on. Everyone talked about the weather, and Bob Yates got the urge to go fishing. People optimistically began making dates for horseback riding. Afternoon classes were but sparsely attended. Students started asking when the tennis courts were due to open. All of which shows that, if not meteorologically, spring at least is here psychologically.

The idea of reading anything by the great writers of yesterday usually frightens people out of their wits. Yet, in that field lies some of the most thoroughly fascinating print ever put to page. There is good reading for every type of preference. For instance: those who like horror stories will find Shelley's play, "The Cenci," outstripping in gasp percentage any modern terror tale ever written.

In the plays of the Restoration (esp. "The Country Wife") and in Boccaccio's "Decamerone" are the best risqué stories of the last eight centuries. Byron's "Don Juan" contains the hottest love of anything in metrical form. Literary curiosities smacking of the pornographic are D. H. Lawrence's novels "Sons and Lovers" and "The Rainbow." One of the greatest character studies in the English language is "The Old Wives' Tale," by Arnold Bennett. The abnormal in literature is best demonstrated in the almost unknown books of de Sade and Sacher-Masoch, obtainable in almost any metropolitan book mart. And so it goes. Those who have neglected this field are due for some surprises when they begin tilling its soil.

The last few decades have seen the growth of a rumor that conversation is a lost art. It is not lost; but merely tucked away in moth balls for the time being. Like all phases of culture, it lapses during periods of intense industrialism. However, good conversation still does exist here and there. There is a bit of it to be had on this campus.

Using wit as a criterion, one would name Bob Sweeney an expert in chatter. Also Gracie Silverman. Batty conversation is available from Elizabeth Brown, Lucy Elliott, Eliza Brent, Dolores Collins, expletive verbal champagne; bubbling, delightful, and ephemeral. Genuine deepness of thought characterizes Bob Houlihan's more serious talk. Chief exponents of the vocal brie-a-brac, or we-can-discuss-almost anything type of conversation, are Mimi Wiedemann and Martha Hume. Best all around talkers, veritable founts of interest, are George Keller, Ross Chepeleff, John Pearce.

But of all the artists in conversation who have crossed my path, the most peerless was Harry Williams, whose brilliant discourse was in itself an education in the gentle science of gab.

Out of the letter box this week spilled two letters from Peter Craigis. In ink he aids and abets my quiet little campaign against war, echoing the belief that individuals, not nations; and corporations, not governments, are the real instigators of armed conflict. That the contention is true is within easy proof. Recent books on the subject have shown that our last two wars, at least, were marketed by munitioners and politicians.

However, we are prone to underestimate the strength of the peace sentiment so prominent in the country now. Besides dozens of organizations formed against war, there are thousands and thousands, not belonging to any group, who would refuse to fight off American soil. It is this feeling which leads to my belief that the United States will not attempt to enter a foreign conflict any day in the near future. The recruiters would suffer a business slump.

RESEARCH CLUB MEETS

Members of the Research club met yesterday in the Dairy building for a discussion of theory and an application of a test for significant statistics. Speakers were Dr. James H. Bywaters, assistant professor of animal husbandry; Dr. E. M. Emmert, assistant professor of horticulture; and Dr. Leon W. Cohen, associate professor of mathematics.

Seeing the University Man

With ROBERT S. COHEN

As the days get warmer the university man's fancy turns to love and attire. We really can't decide which of the two takes top place—the buying of clothes and shoes—you know, is the favorite pastime of all men, regardless of their income. The shoe to go with that new spring outfit is The Snooty Brogue—Baynham's contribution to men of good taste. Its different styles make it suitable for all attire, whether sport or dress.

The shoe featured in today's column is The Snooty Brogue—the pigskin shoe—with the mammoth raw ribbed soles.

We notice girls also like attire—oh-oh-if the girls will just step down to Baynham's especially remodeled Co-ed department they will see one of the season's smartest sport shoes. The one pictured here is obtainable in smoked or white elk with tan calf-crepe soles and heels. By the way, these may be had with leather soles also. The price is $5.00.

—Adv.

Romantic or not—anyway the pinning happened in church.

Power Pritchard, the Eddy Duchin or something of the Commons' piano, has removed his dark glasses and taken a dive off the deep for a "pretty littus lass." Those who know all about it say that Power's courtship is not an innovation and that the lady in question is the inspiration of his latest and best song, "Don't Mind Me."

Campus Clutter

Parvin Conrey has caused the flutter of about 20 hearts at the KD house. It's the strong silent manner about him that gets them. Tri-Delt pledge Ann Myers is very perturbed because Delt Glen Carl won't oblige her with a date so long as she goes with "Rainy" Day. Jean Marie McConnell is getting over so right well that she has to use a calendar. Congratulations and felicitations to Ralph Carlisle for coaching the winning Richmond district tournament team and bringing their first victory of this sort in 12 years. All the KD's think that Caroline Adams and Ollie Montgomery, the soul of the Progressive party, have more than politics in common. Bruce Cruise and H. T. Judy have gone together so long that they even look alike.

What we like best about this spring weather is seeing Gladys Dimock and Frank Dailey together again. Phi Delt Bill Duty is carrying on his courtship both at the University and Transy. In fact he's playing the field. We would like to know what SAE pledge disregarded Emily Post's precepts and suffered himself to be escorted to the front door of SAE house by Kappa pledge. In our possession at the present is a petition signed by 22 names, nominating Ermagard Kruse for bluish queen at the ostrich festival. In addition to that Kay wants everybody to know that she is not the Phisig housemother.

The way Mildred Bryan and Bob Elliston look at each other reminds one of Moon River. While C. B. Marcum is in Florida, Alpha Gam Robbie Payne is doing all right with Bill Donaldson. Nancy Ann Jackson will escort Sherman Hinklebein to the Chio tea dance, while Emily Quigley will take Tommy Merrill. That should cause some consternation of a sort. The Alpha Gams think Martha Riley is bragging again—from all indications a Sigma Chi has come across with an invitation to their dinner and dance, or else Martha is stringing the Alpha Gams—and they wonder why Ferguson is on needles and pins. While Betsy Allen is ill at her home in Paris, Charles Smith just hangs around the Chio house with a mournful look in his eyes. Florence Greene, the lotus-flower of Mt. Sterling, is moving things off her dresser for the recent gallery of photographs she has placed in the room. The new freshman class president, George Cayce, is reputed to have a consuming twin of Louise Watts. Doctor Ryland had to move Lee Allen Heine in French class so that he might get his mind on French instead of Virginia Smith. Grace Silverman is all on the side of Olive Hill for state basketball championship. Former football captain Stan Nover is coaching there. Betty Carol Rhodenmeyer of whom there is made some mention in the scandal columns of the "Cento," forsook her Phidelt affinites and invited her Centre flame for dinner Sunday in Pat Hall. Clare Belle Haley is the recipient of numerous unknown phone calls. The Sigma Nu's are all for Marie Eba's big brown eyes. After all the bickering as to whom of the Alpha Gams Jim Doyle would take to the SAE dinner dance, Elizabeth Moore will not be among those present because Jim has to go to convention. "Goody" Goodman is still celebrating his birthday which has had much of the joy taken out of it by the close game with Tulane. Goody claims that he is sweet sixteen and. . . Patt hall girls are still teasing Lucy Cottrell about the letter that appeared in "Boy Advises Girl" columns of the Sunday Herald-Leader. It was signed L. C. Ben Williams is so unhappy because he won't be initiated and so be able to pin Ann

Law Lyons. "Jeep" Lewis completely disregarded fraternity initiation to take Wilma Bush to Winechester. Climaxed by a "burr head" haircut, certain parts of Phi Sig Neophyte Ray Moore appear more and more like the auditory appendages of a porcine, or maybe the resemblance is more in accord with the jennet. (Courtesy Ray Lathrem.)

Done At Dunn's

By "KIT"

By the looks of things the K. D.'s have been making very rapid progress in love affairs. Ann McDuffie was recently pinned to Kappa Sig Glen Hardymon and Axis Norman to Pi Kap Charles Gary. Billie Dyer and Delyn Anderson displayed their beaming personalities to a S. A. E. friend while enjoying a late snack in the last booth, and Virginia Alsop still claimed the Phi Delt pin of Taber Brewer. Jack Baker and Eileen Baker also seem to be doing right well for themselves. Ditto for Jean Megerie and Dameron Davis. Watch it fellows! It is a fine time of the year to lose a pin. (Adv.)

SAE, Phi Sig 'A' Teams Advance In Rough Intramural Net Openers

Sigma Chi, Phi Kappa Tau Quintets Victorious In 'B' League Games

By JOE CREASON

Phi Sigma Kappa was advanced to the second round of the intramural basketball tournament and Sigma Chi was scratched from the list late yesterday when the intramural department passed on a complaint lodged by the Phi Sig team that the Sigma Chi's were guilty of using an ineligible performer.

The complaint stated that Walter Hatcher had won a varsity net letter at Pikeville Junior college two years ago. Investigation found the claim to be true and under an intramural rule barring former varsity letter men from participating in the play the Sigma Chi team was dropped from the fraternity A league.

Opening with a six-game presentation, the annual intramural basketball tournament was launched into the first round Wednesday night as a scant handful of customers sat patiently through the program.

By virtue of opening night wins, SAE and Sigma Chi advanced into the second round of the "A" league eliminations, while in League B, Sigma Chi and Phi Kappa Tau moved onward. Independent loop victories went to the Law College team and the Western W. five.

The extreme roughness of all the games was the only feature of the opening schedule and none of the games mildly aroused the fans. Most of the games should have been contested on Stoll field as they showed more resemblance to football than to basketball.

Unable to keep their interest on the games, team followers resorted to the favorite pastime of booing the referees for the loose manner in which the games were called.

Phi Tau Takes ATO

In the first B league game of the night, Phi Kappa Tau outroughed ATO to win a narrow 12-11 decision. What the game lacked in good playing, it made up in body blocks and near fights. Several times the fray was discontinued while participants squared off for a little knuckle slinging. This was the only contest on the card that mildly moved the fans to cheers.

Stephenson opened the scoring with a two-pointer and Morris matched his effort with a tip in to send Phi Kappa Tau into the lead 4-0. After seven minutes of play, Mullins found the range with a looper for the first ATO points and then Angelucci decorated the hemp from the side to knot the score at 4-4. Mullins and Stephenson traded field goals and the half ended with the count at 6-6.

As play was resumed, Tooms and Angelucci cashed in on foul chances and ATO led 8-6. Time was called as a near riot was quelled over a disputed decision. Lamb hit two straight crisp shots to put the Phi Tau lodge ahead by 12-8. Tooms added to the ATO total with a foul shot and a one-handed field goal as the game ended.

Sigma Chi Wins
 The remaining B league tilt went to Sigma Chi over Alpha Gamma Rho by 17-11. Sigma Chi jumped into an early lead on goals by Justice and Stephenson and at the half led by 9-5.

With Justice hitting the basket from all angles, Sigma Chi increased its lead as the second half opened and coasted to an easy win. Unable to get their smooth offense clicking, Phi Sigma Kappa fell easy prey to the Sigma Chi football team by 18-8 in the first A league battle. The Phi Sig's were unable to score but one field goal as their giant opponents kept a tight defense around the basket.

Kalmians Lead At Half

Phi Sig went into a short-lived lead when O'Brien hit a foul chance. Ramsey, Hinklebein and Black hit from the field for Sigma Chi. Gentle sank two foul opportunities and O'Brien added another, but Hinklebein and Black pushed crisps down the net and the half found Sigma Chi on top by 10-4.

After two minutes had passed in the second half, Gentle sank the lone Phi Sig field goal on a long floater from the center of the floor. Throughout the final session the superior height of the Sigma Chi team was evident.

With Garland and Baker leading the assault, the defending titlists, SAE, won handily over their first opponent, Phi Delta Theta in another A loop fracas, 30-8. Their teamwork hitting almost to perfection, the SAE's presented a defense to back it up that kept the hapless Phi Deltas minus a field goal until far into the final half.

SAE's Run Up Lead

SAE ran up a 7-0 lead before the Phi Deltas were able to count on a foul shot by Bush. After Davis hit another foul for the Phi Delt cause, Moran, Evans, Baker and Garland combined to extend the SAE margin to 17-2 at the intermission.

Independent league wins were collected by the Law College over the GDI team by 23-17 and by the Western W. squad over the Barbs by 15-8. Allen and Orr led the Lawyers in offensive gestures while Barrett with six markers paced the Western W. five.

FOOTBALL

 two touchdown excursions to ice the game for the Cats and in the Manhattan fray he astounded the football world by lugging a punt return 73 yards for a score and lobbing a pass to Dick Robinson for another as the 'Cats defeated the Jaspers, 19-0.

Capable replacements for Dick Robinson, varsity quarterback and Elmore Simpson also add to Kirwan's headache. Simpson, for three seasons backfield handy man, performed in outstanding manner at every secondary post.

An impressive array of back-field material from the ranks of the freshmen, led by Powell, Ishmael, and Combs, should alleviate some of the secondary troubles. Dameron Davis, Joe Shepherd, Wilce Karnes, Bob Sherman, Ralph Jackowski and Walter Hodge will be on hand to fill in the vacant gaps, as will Nick Lutz, 1936 squad member.

Shepherd, formerly a defensive and blocking back, is rapidly developing into a polished runner and it may be that in his flying feet will be Kirwan's needed broken field dash artist. Another broken field runner of note is Dameron Davis, regular halfback last year until injured in mid-season, who is expected to fill the shoes of brother Bob on the team that opens the year.

Line Coach Shively is confronted with a forward wall sapped of the defensive bulks of Joe Hagan, Joe Bosse and Wendell Skaggs, all victims of graduation.

The center position should be the 'Cats' strongest line of resistance next year with Captain Sherman Hinklebein, Pardee, Bailey and Black to cover the middle regions. Improved in every phase of the game, Bailey shows signs of extending his snapper-back job.

The vulnerable end spots, at which Rupert is giving his attention, will be patrolled by McCubbin, Garland, Phillips, all holdovers from last year and newcomers Scott and Gholson.

Covering the remainder of the line, Alternate-Captain Bill Boston, Snyder, Brown, Vires, Fritz, Lackman, Linden, Tracey, and Jacobs will add much needed weight to the forward wall. Several absentees, including Hinklebein, spending his time with the swimming team, Hodge, recovering from a leg operation, Lackman and Tracey, both recent discharges from the hospital, and Phil Scott, recuperating from an appendix operation, will be noticed among those present at the practice.

"Colonel" of the Week

LAYTON ROUSE

This week's "Colonel" goes to Layton "Mickey" Rouse, Ludlow, Arts and Science sophomore, who though just up from the Frosh ranks, filled the guard position opened by the injured veteran Hodge on the University's conference championship basketball team with gratifying skill. His accurate shooting eye and expert defensive play were outstanding in several games this season.

To show our appreciation, come in and enjoy any two of the delicious dinners from our menu.

EAGLES CANCEL SWIM MEET WITH CATS

Due to an injury suffered by Morris, main cog of the Morehead state teachers college swimming team, the meet originally scheduled for last night between the Eagles and Kentucky's "pool-less" Wildcats was cancelled.

The match for the 'Cats was to have been their first near-to-home start, and the initial match in a Kentucky pool for the year. In previous attempts, the Blue and Whites have splashed to three victories in six starts.

A journey to the Eastern State teachers college swimming hole, used by the 'Cats for practice, for a meet on March 25 is next on tap for Kentucky. Then a tilt with Berea on April 2 will clean the slate for the year.

In the last two matches the 'Cats will stroke extra strongly as their record of no defeats to a Kentucky team in three years of competition will be at stake.

At the present time plans are being drafted for the team's participation in both the Southeastern conference and Kentucky state meets. As Kentucky intercollegiate champs for the past two years, the Wildcats are expected to retain their title, but the Southeastern meet will be Kentucky's first bow in big time tournament swimming. The natators are especially anxious again to match strokes with Tennessee, to whom an early season, disputed match was dropped.

SULZER RETURNS TO UKY

Elmer G. Sulzer, director of the University studios and head of the publicity bureau, returned Tuesday, March 10, from Washington, D. C., where he appeared before a meeting of the Federal communications commission in behalf of the WHAS studio's appeal for an increase in power.
